

CONTENTS

Introduction

By Olga Zdravomyslova and Andrei Ryabov

Section 1. Federalism in Comparative Perspective

A State Divided: Federalism as Nations' Agonism?

By Philipp Casula

Comparing German and Russian Federalism – Challenges of Reforming the Center-Region Relationship in a Globalizing World.

By Stefan Meister

Federalism Asian Style: Russia and Malaysia in Comparative Perspective.

By Andrei Zakharov

Section 2. Federalism as a Form of Organizing Russia's Space

The Constitutional Foundations of Modern Russian Federalism: The Model and the Reality.

By Irina Umnova

Federative Relations and the Problems of the Russian Space.

By Leonid Vardomsky

Russia: The Federation without Federalism.

By Cameron Ross

Russian Quasi-Federalism: The State and the Prospects.

By Rostislav Turovsky

Section 3. The Federal Center's Policies and Socio-Political Processes in Russian Regions

Authoritarianism, Federalism, and the Regional Policy: The Triangle of Territorial Administration in Russia.

By Andrei Starodubtsev

Federalism, Sovereignty, and Regional Exceptions: Political Aspects of Analysis.

By Andrei Makarychev

A Region as Part of the Federation: The Krasnodar Territory's Perspective.

By Yelena Morozova

Opposition in Russian Regions: The Balance between the Federal and Local Agendas.

By Oleg Podvintsev

Political Processes and Civic Engagement: Regional Specifics (Case Study: The Ivanovo Region).

By Olga Shnyrova

Section 4. Federalism Issues: Regional Perspectives

Regional Identity as a Development Driver for Russian Federalism (Case Study: The Perm Territory).

By Nadezhda Borisova

The Rise and Fall of Russian Federalism: The late 1988 – 2012. A View from the Far East.

By Anatoly Savchenko

Federalism, Internal Colonization, Education: The Siberian Knot.

By Mikhail Rozhansky

The Ethno-Political Situation in the Republic of Bashkortostan at the Current Stage.

By Azat Badranov

The Russian Caucasus in the Federal Center's Policies: Key Trends of the 2000s.

By Igor Kosikov

The Failure of Federalism? About Implications of the Unitary System in the North Caucasus.

By Grigory Shvedov

Section 5. Russian Federalism: A Sociological Perspective

The State and Development Prospects of Russian Federalism as Viewed and Perceived by Society.

By Igor Zadorin and Dmitry Zaitsev

The 'Imperial Syndrome': How Federalism Is Perceived by Regional Elites.

By Andrei Zakharov

Expert Discussions of Russian Federalism's Problems: Results of the Round Tables Held in Russian Regions.

By Andrei Ryabov

Information about Contributors